Site Hums With Activity As All Agencies Unite To Prepare For Opening

The preparations for the fourth annual County Fair, opening Friday and continuing through Sunday, swung into high gear Wednesday noon as the erection of the principal exhibit tents was completed at the fair grounds.

"All tents are up except the mining and lumbering tent and that will be ready before evening," said Manager Thomas T. Chard.

"Installation of exhibits began early this afternoon and those who have exhibits to set up may work tonight as late as they wish, and tomorrow and tomorrow night."

The fair management again called attention to the fact that entry blanks for exhibits in the fair must be filed not later than Thursday evening at six o'clock, and all exhibits entered in competition for premiums in the fair positively must be in place when the fair opens at ten o'clock Friday morning.

"This is a state regulation," Manager Chard said. "We must abide by the rule for we have no authority to amend it and any exhibits which are set up after the fair is opened simply can not be considered as competitive."

With preparations for the exhibit features of the fair moving ahead with clock-work precision, Manager Chard said that reports from the

County Shares Vehicle Fees

5,286 Registrations Yield $7,275.46 For Six Months Of Year

The total fee paid registration of motor vehicles in the county in the six months ending June 30th numbered 5,286 which entitles the county to $7,275.46 as its share in the motor vehicle registration fee and license fee apportionment, it was announced Wednesday at Sacramento by James M. Carter, director of motor vehicles.

A total of $12,987,601.74 has been collected by the department of Motor Vehicles for the two funds, with counties receiving $3,761,513.67 from the registration fees and cities and counties together $863,980.62 from the vehicle license fees. The vehicle license fee is a quarterly apportionment, while the registration figures cover the period from January 1 to June 30.

The general fund received $215,995.15, or 20 per cent of the vehicle license fee, the other 80 per cent going to the cities and counties after deductions for administration and employees retirement fund. The Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works received 50 per cent of the total registration fee after deduction for administrative purposes, or $3,761,513.67, with a like amount going to the counties.

An increase of 133,201 motor vehicles brought an increase of $550,831.25 in registration fees, according to Carter, with all sections of the state benefitting. Apportionment of registration fees is based on number of vehicles in each county.

SWIMMING TOURNAMENT PLANNED AT PLUNGE ON AUGUST 27TH

According to "Scout" Thomsen, the race is open to all competitors in all classes and entries should be filed at the plunge.

The meet is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

THE MARVELOUS PANORAMA OF LAKE VALLEY spreads before the eyes of motorists driving eastward over the Echo Summit as they round a curve on the recently opened new alignment through the pioneer Hawley Grade pass and start the descent to the valley on the modern high gear road, which connects with the old alignment at the second switchback below the old summit. COUNTY UNEQUALLED IN STATE IN DIVERSITY OF INTERESTS

Rich In History, Blessed With Exceptional Recreational Facilities, We Share Also In Four Of California's Basic Industries

By WALLACE M. RIPLEY
Secretary

El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce

Citizens of El Dorado County, how well do you know and appreciate our county — its romantic history, its varied industries, its attractive recreational facilities?

If you will take a few moments to reflect upon the unusual diversity of interesting vocations and relaxations, you will find a variety of absorbing activities unequalled anywhere in California.

Take for example, the industrial life of the county. Among the foremost pursuits are lumbering, mining, fruit raising and livestock, all of which are conducted on a large scale. While very few counties can boast of even two out of four of these, El Dorado is teeming with activity from its rolling cattle ranches, through its productive pear orchards on up into its great forests where the ringing saws transfer age-old trees into modern lumber. And beneath the surface of the ground in this vast area many men and machines are drilling and blasting their way through the earth, producing gold, silver, chrome, lime, slate and many other valuable mining products. Above the ground and below, men and women are busy gathering the natural riches from the county's vast storehouse. But all is not work in El Dorado

County. Ever since the first days of the gold fever in 1848, the people of this fascinating mining country have kept a rare sense of humor and a spirit of genuine hospitality. A true democracy in its purest form, symbolic of the finest tradition of the nation, thrives in this pioneering mountain county. Lodges, churches, service clubs and social organizations are actively engaged in programs that aid in making for better living conditions. Community swimming pools, competitive athletic leagues, golf courses and public parks offer excellent facilities to participate in out-of-door entertainment.

Majestic peaks, crystal clear streams and transport blue lakes in the High Sierras of El Dorado County beckon to more than a half million tourists each year. In a great natural fairland better known as the Eldorado National Forest, lie unsurpassed opportunities to swim, fish, camp, aquaplane or just act lazy. In the winter season thousands of people enjoy the thrill of skating or the swift ski glide down any of the hundreds of snow-clad slopes.

For the person interested in historic sites, there is an abundance of

Ability To Stand On His Own Feet In Opposition To Lobbyists Seen In Maul

Among numerous letters received by Thomas Maul since the announcement of his candidacy for election to be State Senator for Amador, Alpine and El Dorado Counties, is one bearing an endorsement of Mr. Maul's candidacy from Leslie P. Frey, well known resident of Fairplay.

"I take this means of letting you know," the letter says, "that you have some friends at Fairplay, and we are glad to have the privilege of supporting your candidacy for State Senator from the Ninth District."

"We believe your knowledge of the needs of the district, your honesty and your ability to stand on your own feet and fight for the best interests of your district, and not be swayed by high pressure lobbyists in the State Legislature, qualifies you to make a good Senator."

H. S. CLASSES WILL START SEPT. 3RD

Registration Opens On Wednesday Of Next Week; One Change In Faculty

The registration of pupils at the county high school will open Wednesday, August 28, and continue through the following Thursday and Friday, from nine o'clock in the morning until four o'clock in the afternoon in preparation for beginning the school year on Tuesday, September 3.

For the convenience of pupils who may be employed, and who may wish to continue in their work until the close of the pre-school week, there will be a special registration period on Thursday evening, August 29th, from seven o'clock until nine o'clock.

Known prospective pupils for the year are receiving cards from the high school in the mail, advising them of the hours it will be most convenient for them to register.

In making public the preparations for the school year, officials said that they do not expect that the enrollment for the new year will exceed last year's total of slightly more than six hundred. There is a slight increase of pupils in prospect from the rural areas of the county, it was said, but this is offset by an apparent decline in the number of pupils in Placerville.

Principal B. E. Larson has called the faculty to meet on Tuesday, August 27th, at 7 o'clock, to arrange the registration supervision and to outline problems for the year. The faculty will be the same as during the past year with the exception that Miss Mary Stewart has resigned as girls' physical education instructor.

She will be succeeded by Miss Gertrude Saunders, who has been en-

Georgetown Fire Guilt Admitted

Law Enforcement Case Follows 50-Acre Blaze In Jones Hill District

James Menz, 40, of Georgetown, has pleaded guilty to charges of setting the recent fire in the Jones Hill district, which burned over about fifty acres, it was revealed Wednesday morning by Ranger Frank McCaslin, of Georgetown district, who was a caller in the county seat.

McCaslin revealed that Menz admitted his guilt in the Justice's Court at Georgetown and that a sentence of ninety days was imposed and was suspended on condition that Menz leave the county and remain out of the county for one year.

Menz was taken into custody by Forest Service officers who found in the investigation launched after the fire was controlled that suspicious pointed toward him.

Ranger McCaslin said that the evidence showed that Menz had apparently been drinking and that he had built a fire in an abandoned cabin in which the fireplace had tumbled in, and that the forest fire started from this cause.

One other law enforcement case on the Georgetown district also was reported. The defendant was John Kolme, of Kelsey, who was fined $5 in Justice Court when a fire he had lighted became more of a fire than he could control.

Dr. Reckers And Party On Northwest Tour

Reckers, Miss Florence Reckers and Mrs. Agnes Walter are spending about three weeks on vacation visiting principal points in the Pacific Northwest including Banff, Lake Louise and the Puget Sound area. They expect to return home in time for the doctor to resume his practice about September 1.

Betty Blair left the fore part of the week for Sacramento to enroll in a school of business training.

NEW SLASH IN POWER RATE

Record Reduction Will Become Effective In October, Says Commission

Reductions in the gas and electric rates of Pacific Gas and Electric Company totalling $5,000,000 a year were announced by Commissioner Ray C. Wakefield of the California Railroad Commission.

The new lower rates will become effective during October. The savings to electric customers of the company throughout its entire system in northern California will be approximately $2,000,000 and to the gas customers of $3,000,000.

Most of the reductions will apply to domestic and commercial customers. Suggestions which were given the Commission by representatives of cities during the ten regional conferences held last month, will have consideration in the application of the new schedule of rates. Engineers of the Commission and of the company are now making studies to determine the exact new rates.

"This is the largest single reduction ever made by the California Railroad Commission on any utility's rates in the 28-year life of the Railroad Commission," said Wakefield.

"The reduction is made possible largely through increased earnings brought about by greater customer use during the last year. The Commission's policy of continuous investigation brings the increased earnings promptly to the Commission's attention. This reduction follows downward adjustments in utility rates made annually for the last five years.

"Tax payments made by Pacific Gas and Electric Company to the federal, state and local governments is the largest single item of expense to the company, even exceeding labor costs. Both items have been substantially increased within the last six months. During the progress of this study a revision of the federal income tax statute has increased the requirements of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, by $1,000,000. Further tax increases are imminent. The Commission has determined the present reductions of $5,000,000 is just and reasonable. It will continue this study of the company's operations during the next six months and at the end of that period will review the effect upon the company's earnings of the reductions now made. Consideration will then be given to the question whether or not further reductions can be effected under the conditions then prevailing."

Last year the Commission effected a reduction of $3,200,000 in the rates of this company; $2,000,000 in 1938; $3,100,000 in 1937 and $3,900,000 in 1936.

LONDON SEES NEW ATTACK FORMING

Defenses Are Bolstered Against Expected New Air Blitzkrieg Attempt

LONDON, (UP)—German air raiders blasted away at Midland and southeast British targets today in a series of hit and run raids which late afternoon estimates indicated cost them at least eight planes.

There was little large scale German activity over Britain but almost continuous sniping by raiders coming over by ones, twos and threes and hitting at scattered targets. The press association estimated German losses at eight planes up to 5 p. m.

By UNITED PRESS

Great Britain today bolstered her defenses against a German aerial assault in which it was expected Adolf Hitler will use the full power of the Reich air armada.

Relaxation of mass air attacks on Britain was interpreted in London as the lull before the storm.

A hint that the storm may not be long delayed was seen in news from Vichy, France, that Germans again have sealed the border between occupied and unoccupied France against any travel, whether by rail, motor or foot.

Every effort was being made by the British to harass German preparations for the big attack. All German radio stations went silent at 11 o'clock last night and even the wireless service of the official German news agency was suspended. This was taken to indicate that long-range British bombers were again striking deep into Germany.

Berlin gave the day's air score at 14 British planes downed and three German planes lost.

British figures claimed that 710 German planes had been downed since August 8 with a loss of at least 1500 trained German airmen, compared with 192 British planes downed with fewer than 300 airmen missing.

Bridge Deal Is Approved

State Government To Pay Company $6,392,000 For Two Structures

VALLEJO, (UP)—The state's offer to purchase the Carquinez and Antioch toll bridges and the Martinez-Benicia ferry from the American Toll Bridge Company was accepted today by directors of the firm.

It will not be necessary to get approval from the stockholders, said Will F. Morrish, president of the board of directors. A written acceptance will be sent immediately to State Director of Public Works F. W. Clark.

Morrish said formal transfer of the bridges and ferry probably will be made Sept. 16.

Clark in June proposed state purchase of the bridges and ferry for $6,392,000 but the amount was later slashed $438,000 at the request of state officials. He contended state acquisition of the properties would reduce tolls from 45 cents a car and five cents a passenger to a flat 25 or 30 cent rate.

Sacramento Northern May Halt Service

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—The California Railroad Commission today authorized Sacramento Northern Railway to abandon its rail passenger transportation between West Pittsburg and Sacramento on less than five days notice.

At the same time the commission relaxed restrictions on the bus service between Sacramento and San Francisco operated by the Beverly Gibson Lines to permit the Gibson firm to transport passengers between West Pittsburg and Sacramento.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Williams, of Diamond Springs, are the parents of a daughter, Marie Lorraine born August 15th.

Love Shy By Nelly Graf

Marianne Minear lives with her mother and her sister, Eve, in a shabby little house in the wrong end of Centerville. Though she is poor, Monte Thurston, her childhood sweetheart from the fashionable part of town, has stuck to her through high school. On graduation night, however, he leaves her for another girl, Sabra Anderson, who has money. Meanwhile, the Minears have sold their house and Eve, who has been acting very strangely, begs her mother to give her the money to get away from Centerville, where, she says, a girl without money hasn't a chance. When her mother refuses, Eve runs away with her employer, Charley Forham, a married man. Marianne, stunned by her sister's desperate action and crushed by Monte's desertion of her for the well-to-do Sabra, becomes convinced that money is everything and stims you that some day she will have it.

"Marianne, you'll still be my girl, won't you? My secret sweetheart."

CHAPTER III
THE next morning, Marianne started out to find work, but spent a wearying day trudging from place to place before she finally landed a bookkeeping job at Buck Murphy's plumbing shop. When she reached home late in the afternoon, her mother the car on Ladore Lake. The moon was just coming up, hanging like a bowl of silver in the basket formed by a group of tree tops.

"WHAT'S all this talk about Eve?" Monte asked abruptly. Marianne was grateful for the darkness that hid the hot flush on her face.

"She's gone away," she answered levelly. "To school in New York. Didn't you know? She's going to study interior decorating."

There, it was out—the lie she had rehearsed.

"Oh-h. There was disbelieve in Monte's tone. "Did you know Charley Forham left at the same time?"

"Did he?" Marianne asked weakly.

"Didn't you know?" suspiciously.

"Oh-h-h. Monte if it were your sister."

Monte did not answer, and Marianne desperately changed the subject.

"I got a job today," she volunteered.

"Doing what?"

"Keeping books at Murphy's plumbing shop."

"Murphy's! For heaven's sake Marianne didn't you know the last girl quit there because Buck Murphy is drunk all the time?"

"Why no I had to have something and—"

"I suppose so," Monte's tone was curt. "Say—uh—Dad raised a lot of Old Ned today about you and me. He'd heard about Eve and—well, you can understand how he feels with all the gossip. He—er—told me I was to just seeing you."

Marianne didn't speak. She couldn't surely this wasn't Monte talking! She swallowed several times her eyes staring into the darkness.

"I—I see," she said finally, in a low voice. "In that case, well better go home."

"All right, but don't act like I'm a quitter or something. After all, can I help it?"

"No B-b-but let's go home."

They were silent on the way back. But when they stopped before her home, Monte suddenly swept her into his arms and kissed her—hard, eager kisses.

"Honey I can't stop seeing you! There would be no harm in going for a ride like this once in a while. No one would know. Marianne, you'll still be my girl, won't you? My secret sweetheart?"

"On Monte I—I—"

Marianne was weeping, and Monte was kissing her tears away. She saw Monte three times after that before he left on his summer vacation. Each time she was more hurt. She resented being a "secret" sweetheart. Starting out after dark for a ride, being careful no one saw them—as though they were ashamed.

And it was not only Monte. The crowd she had gone with at high school had dropped her. She knew that this was partly due to the fact that she no longer "belonged," now that she had gone into the working world while they followed the idle pursuits of the moneyed class. But it was also due to the gossip about Eve. She became accustomed to snubs and sneers. People turned their heads to stare at her on the street lowering their voices. Once she caught the words, "Yes—Eve Minear's sister."

A NEW GRAND STAND IS INCLUDED IN IMPROVEMENTS completed at the County Fair grounds during the past year and the structure, designed to seat 3,000 persons, is shown above. Perhaps those who sat on folding chairs, or even upon robes spread upon the ground, to watch the special event program at the fair last year will not appreciate the improvement so much at this year's fair, August 23 to 25, as will the several hundred who were unable to find seats and were compelled to stand to view the performances. One feature of the structure is that it is built on sloping ground, so that while the rear tier of seats is well above those at the front, none of the seats is any considerable distance off the ground.—A Democrat Photo.

gaged in similar work in the Tacoma, Washington, schools.

Classes will start promptly on Tuesday, September 3, the school officials advise, since it has been found in recent years that the system of registration which is used permits of equalizing the class rosters during the weekend following registration, so that all preliminaries are concluded within a minimum of confusion.

In this connection, it is noted that pupils who register late will find that all major adjustments have been completed prior to their registration, and late registration will be likely to put the pupil in a position of having to accept such classes as he can get.

It is therefore urged that all who expect to enroll, do so during the registration period, so that class adjustments may be made to provide the greatest number and the complications of late registration avoided.

According to Principal Larson, it is in the pupil's interest to have his parents with him when he applies for registration, particularly in the case of freshman pupils.

Parents who wish to discuss enrollment problems with the school officials will be especially welcome during the registration period," it is announced.

The LETTER BOX

Editor, The Placerville Republican.

In your community, at the present time, the members of a certain sect are conducting a campaign soliciting money from the public. This they call their "Annual Harvest Ingathering Campaign," and all the money collected in this drive is used for their evangelistic and foreign mission work.

Some of the members, as they solicit gifts, mistakenly say they are soliciting funds for local relief and charity work. In discussing this phase of their soliciting with the District Attorney, he very emphatically stated that it is incorrect to call evangelistic or foreign mission effort "local relief or charity work."

Furthermore, he informed me it is illegal to solicit money from the public for relief and charity, and then use it for any other purpose than that for which it was solicited, such as foreign missions, and anyone who does this places himself liable for arrest and prosecution.

That these solicitors have been making this mistake in ignorance, I am quite certain, and if you will inform them of the seriousness of their mistake you will render both them and your community a valuable service.

You may print this letter, if you wish.

Yours very sincerely,
ARTHUR RITZ,
Sonoma, Calif., August 15, 1940.

ator for the Ninth District.

"It appears to this humble person that if Democracy as our forefathers intended it to be is to survive, we need sweeping changes in a great many departments of our government.

"Our laws should be made to equally benefit the masses of our people and not made to benefit the few."

"There should be more honor among men and states."

"We should stand united regardless of political affiliations and fight for the principles of Democracy."

(Signed) Sincerely Yours,
LESLIE P. FREY.

TROTSKY NEAR DEATH AFTER ATTACK BY MAN HE SUPPOSED FRIEND

MEXICO CITY, (UP)—Leon Trotsky lay close to death today as physicians sought to save the famed Russian revolutionist from brain injuries inflicted by an assailant he had thought to be his friend.

Surgeons who performed an operation on Trotsky for a skull fracture at the Green Cross emergency hospital had said that if he lived for a few hours he might have a fighting chance.

He rallied slightly during the early morning hours.

Trotsky's mystery man assailant lay in the same hospital, having been severely wounded by Harold Robbins, head guard at the fortified Trotsky villa in the Coyoacan suburb where the attack was made.

The assailant, a trusted friend who had been given the freedom of the villa, was known as Frank Jackson, an American, and was said to have an American wife. But he told Gen. Manuel Nunez, police chief, at the hospital, that he was Jacques Mornard Van Den Dresch, 36, born at Tehran, Persia, of Belgian parents, a newspaperman by profession.

AUTO SERVICE CLUB TO PICNIC SUNDAY AT COUNTY FAIR AND WATCH SECOND RUNNING OF WHEELBARROW DERBY

More than eighteen Studebaker dealers of the Sacramento Division Service Club, with their service men and their families will join in the first annual Service Club picnic at the El Dorado County Fair Grounds noon, Sunday, August 25. A feature of the entertainment for that day at the county fair will be the John Studebaker Wheelbarrow Race, a quarter mile steeplechase, which will be run on a course at the fair grounds.

Following the Placerville event many of the service men will entrain for South Bend, Indiana, to be in attendance at the Studebaker service school September 3 through September 7.

During the five days of intensive instruction, every student will receive full instructions on all subjects, according to D. O. Wilson, Studebaker service manager. Classes will be restricted to a minimum of 2 students each to insure personalized attention.

In addition to the course of instruction, Studebaker has arranged a full schedule of evening entertainment for the service men to be climaxed by a banquet on September 6 at which Paul G. Hoffman, Studebaker president; K. B. Elliott; C. S. Fletcher; R. G. Cole; D. O. Wilson and other Studebaker officials will speak.

"BILL OF DIVORCEMENT" AND "BLACK FRIDAY" ON EMPIRE SCREEN

That rarest of all screen commodities, a new formula for making movies, is credited to Arthur Lubin, young Universal director.

Lubin's formula is to make a horror picture without being horrid, and he has achieved it in "Black Friday," the new Boris Karloff-Bela Lugosi thriller at the Empire theater Wednesday and Thursday.

The freshness of youth and an emotional depth reminiscent of a Bernhardt or a Duse is the fortunate combination possessed by Maureen O'Hara, according to Producer Robert Sisk, who picked the 19-year-old Irish girl for the leading role in "A Bill of Divorcement," which tops the two-day program. She shares the feature honors with Adolphe Menjou, Fay Bainter and Herbert Marshall.

Entries Close On Thursday

various chairmen of the special feature events indicate that the plans for the attractive program of entertainment and contests will be fulfilled.

"The amateur hour program for Friday night is shaping up well under the supervision of Cecil Barker and I notice among the entries some of those who have appeared before, and also new competitors, both in the single and the group divisions," he said.

"Don't forget to mention the old-time costume dance which will follow the amateur hour Friday night. There will be prizes for costumes.

"Entries for the horse show on Saturday afternoon have been filled for about two weeks and this will be an outstanding event. Other special attractions Saturday include the fireworks display, provided with the compliments of the Shell Oil Company, and dancing later in the evening with music by Red's Rhythm Rascals.

"Sunday will be the really big day with the Studebaker Wheelbarrow Derby at one o'clock followed by the Pony Express Race, a tug of war and the drum corps exhibition and then the fireworks display at night."

Although the fair exhibit entries close Thursday night, the opportunity for contestants to enter either the Wheelbarrow Race or the Pony Express Race will be held open until Sunday, it was indicated, since these races are special fair features and the prize money does not come under the state finance department's administration.
